JOHNNY DEPP

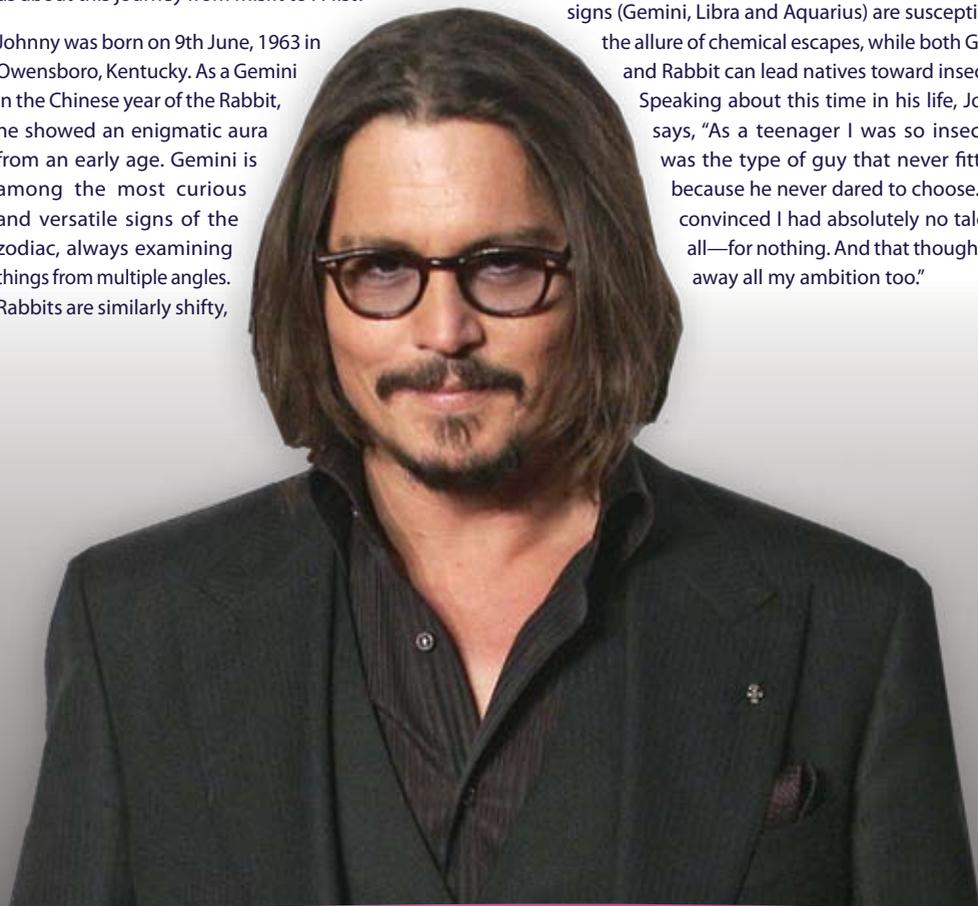

Without really trying, he became one of the highest-paid and most-respected actors anywhere. Was he guided by the stars?

When Johnny Depp moved to Los Angeles as a teenager, acting was the furthest thing from his mind. Along with his band mates, he had come from a small town in Florida with dreams of making it big in the music business. Thirty years on, he is one of the most respected and highest-paid actors in the world. What can his astrological signature tell us about this journey from misfit to A-list?

Johnny was born on 9th June, 1963 in Owensboro, Kentucky. As a Gemini in the Chinese year of the Rabbit, he showed an enigmatic aura from an early age. Gemini is among the most curious and versatile signs of the zodiac, always examining things from multiple angles. Rabbits are similarly shifty, but endowed with grace and natural good luck. This combination would serve him well in many respects, but before he could unlock its charms, he first had to deal with its dark side.

Soon after the death of his beloved grandfather, Johnny's destructive tendencies began to show. He took up smoking at the age of 12, followed soon by drugs and drink. All air signs (Gemini, Libra and Aquarius) are susceptible to the allure of chemical escapes, while both Gemini and Rabbit can lead natives toward insecurity. Speaking about this time in his life, Johnny says, "As a teenager I was so insecure. I was the type of guy that never fitted in because he never dared to choose. I was convinced I had absolutely no talent at all—for nothing. And that thought took away all my ambition too."

charming indecisive

RABBIT

stylish

This clearly shows Johnny's Gemini-Rabbit nature: inability to choose (Gemini), and a nagging sense of insecurity (Rabbit). Given these traits, on top of his unstable family life, Johnny's future seemed anything but secure. Fate had to intervene—but how?

It was a guitar that focused Johnny's energy and guided his spirit toward the destiny awaiting him. When his mother gave him the instrument as a gift, chances are she never imagined her son dropping out of high school to pursue a career in rock music—much less being paid $55 million to star in a single film (Pirates of the Caribbean 4). Yet leaving school was a natural move for Johnny. Anchored by his new passion for music, he couldn't wait to roam free in a world much wider than the one he saw around him. Gemini refuses to be pinned down, while Rabbit has a knack for sensing how things are going to play out. This gave Johnny the courage and trust he needed to take a leap of faith toward Hollywood.

Johnny's band struggled to make a name for itself, eventually calling it quits. He was introduced to actor Nicolas Cage, who suggested Johnny try acting. While his heart was still in music, his Rabbit's intuition encouraged him to start seeking auditions. Once he did, doors quickly began to open. In a few short years, as the star of the TV series 21 Jump Street, he had achieved Teen Idol status.

Even so, Johnny's destructive side wasn't finished. As his fame grew, so did his infamy. Drugs, brushes with the paparazzi, and trashed hotel rooms became synonymous with his name. He needed a new guitar—something to focus his wandering Gemini mind and calm his edgy Rabbit nerves. As it turns out, Tim Burton entered the picture at just the right time, offering Johnny the role of Edward Scissorhands and sparking a lifelong collaboration that served to discipline and focus Johnny's wayward energy.

Things would never be the same after that. The magnetism and eccentricity of the characters Johnny went on to play—from Edward Scissorhands to the Mad Hatter—captivated audiences and elevated him to highest stratosphere of fame. Instead of an air of youthful rebellion, he began to radiate a cool aura of mystery. This was the result of having mastered the restless and destructive elements of his astrological nature, and learning how to pour these energies into character after enigmatic character.

Johnny's enduring partnership with French singer Vanessa Paradis was a further manifestation of this new phase in life. Both Gemini and Rabbit and flirtatious signs, and well-known for their wandering eyes—yet after a string of troubled relationships, it seemed as though he had truly found his life partner in Vanessa. As an earthy Capricorn, she helped further ground and hold his energies in place.

Now that the couple have split and Johnny is on the loose again, will his destructive tendencies re-surface? Not likely—as long as the actor continues to shine in quirky roles like Tonto in the forthcoming Lone Ranger film, his mysterious maturity will stay in place. ★

Questions about destiny?

1-866-960-6498

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 19)

When was the last time you found it hard to make up your mind? Clear and direct action is normally your thing, but it's not so simple this month. To cut through the clutter and simplify your options, find a practice that centres and grounds you. What about meditation, Tai Chi, or even a walk in the park? Any of these will provide you with focus and help to illuminate the path ahead. A psychic dream or experience takes you into the past, where an unresolved issue is waiting to be cleared up. Your emotions, rather than your logical mind, will help you find the answer. If you're into new love, connect to your immediate surroundings and be open to the unexpected.

Taurus (Apr 20 - May 20)

A shift in perspective after the 6th of the month allows you to see your social life with greater clarity. The friends you spend time with are just as important to your health as the diet you keep! It isn't easy to put distance between yourself and unhealthy friendships—but if you follow your intuition and gently close a door that doesn't serve you anymore, you'll be pleasantly surprised by the door that opens in its place. Seemingly separate elements of your world are connected in mysterious ways. A new romantic prospect is ready to appear—ready when you are, that is. Bringing love into manifestation is a question of believing in yourself.

Gemini (May 21 - June 21)

If you want to harness the enormous amount of creative energy flowing through you this month, your best bet is to establish a routine. Let your body fall into a steady rhythm, especially in terms of sleep, and your mental energy will focus like a laser beam. This way, instead of just feeling restless and buzzed, you'll produce real results that serve you well into the future. Turn on the charm if you're in the dating game. Being bold is always a risk, but the potential payoff is big. If you're already committed to someone, it's time to let them see a deeper layer of who you are. The relationship flourishes when you allow each other to change and grow as individuals.

Libra (Sept 23 - Oct 22)

Some things have been part of your daily routine for so long that you don't really think about them anymore. But if you take a fresh look, you'll see there are new ways of doing things. When little changes are uploaded to the system, there is no telling what kind of positive effect it can have. As for that wild idea you've been kicking around, now is the time to make a move. Otherwise, how will you ever know? In any case, you'll be stronger and wiser for it. Your relationship becomes stronger too, as long as you face change together and agree to leave the past behind. If you're single, dealing with past heartache is the key to new love.

Scorpio (Oct 23 - Nov 21)

Your psychic sensitivity is keen, allowing clear insight into a hidden situation. In order to bring about the best result, take the other person's feelings into account. That psychic openness you're feeling can also leave you vulnerable and restless. Protective energies such as sage or essential oils can help you stay clear and grounded, able to draw the line between your own emotions and those of others. On the other hand, things heat up between you and your love interest when you allow the psychic boundary between you to fade—so when it comes to that special someone, surrender completely and let passion take you higher.

Sagittarius (Nov 22 - Dec 21)

If you really want to touch the stars, explore the role you play in the lives of those around you. Imagine how they see you, what kinds of thoughts they have about you, whether or not they feel supported and guided by you. These are the same people who support your own journey in untold ways, so caring for them is a way of caring for yourself. If someone has a negative perception of you, try and change it! This is also the way to approach a romantic prospect. If you're really interested in who they are, don't be afraid to show it. Ask the questions you want to ask, find out all you can about their life, and eventually they'll begin to let their guard down.

Cancer (June 22 - July 22)

Instead of dreaming about something that fascinates you, find a way to dive in and explore it for real! Enroll in that class, sign up for that workshop, and you'll see the energy in your world begin to shift. It's all about following your heart and taking a leap of faith—the more we learn to do this, the more our dreams become reality. You now have access to a deep store of intuitive wisdom, like jewels at the bottom of a lake. In order to dive down and get them, you'll need to be still and look within yourself. There is nothing these treasures cannot do for you, but they need patience and careful handling. Setting aside a few minutes each day to clear your head should be enough.

Leo (July 23 - Aug 22)

Your sign naturally captures the spotlight—even when you don't mean to. This month, you'll find greater benefit in working behind the scenes. The more energy you put into others, the more energy others will put into you. A selfless act will come back to you almost immediately, elevating you toward your own goals. Community service or volunteer work also happen to be prime territory for rustling up a new love interest. The fact that you show up in the first place is attractive—on top of that, you have that famous Leo charm working in your favour! Words and intentions are likely to get crossed toward the end of the month, but a little caution keeps you in the clear.

Virgo (Aug 23 - Sep 22)

Cutting loose and having fun was a big thing for you in May. This month, the most fun you can have is getting down to business! Deep down you want to shine and claim recognition for what you've achieved, which means extra effort and sharp focus on your part. As long as what you're doing is a labour of love, you'll have no trouble summoning the energy to make it happen. An existing relationship responds well to a few new ground rules. Developing psychic sensitivity to one another does not happen all at once, and requires conscious effort, but things will run more smoothly in the long run. Trust your first instinct on a financial move; the choice is obvious.

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 19)

Recent changes have left your wheels spinning—now is the time to ground yourself with a routine!

Without structure and discipline, there is no traction to move you forward; but when you find a good rhythm, things move along of their own accord. After much debate, you seem to have reached an understanding with a friend or partner—but don't get too comfortable. The issue is bound to resurface late in the month. When it does, be prepared to go with the flow and come up with a new solution. Your patience is being tested for a reason. A get-together with a serious purpose does your spirit good, and produces a valuable connection.

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 18)

The situation at work shifts when you tune into the emotional energies around you.

Seeing your co-workers as real people, with their own joys and challenges, inspires you to interact on a different wavelength—which brings a new opportunity your way. Your social life was cozy and intimate last month, but it's all about Summer fun in June. Resist the temptation to stay in. The more you extend yourself, the more energy you have. New love is in the cards if you want it—especially when an unexpected conversation is allowed to follow its natural course, and things take a playful turn. If the signals are clear, don't let the chance slip away!

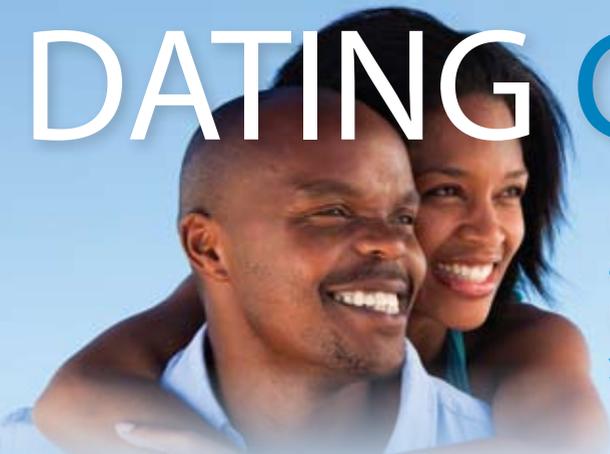

Pisces (Feb 19 - Mar 20)

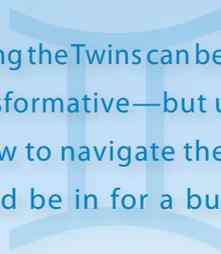

You may not be feeling all that perky, but there is still plenty to accomplish.

A serious mood works to your advantage, allowing you to clear up a long-standing issue with a friend or partner. Take advantage of your keen ability to focus, and solutions will appear out of the blue. Later in the month, you'll feel like celebrating—and why not? Summer brings a sense of fun and flirtation. Have you noticed that someone has their eye on you? The feeling isn't likely to be reciprocated, but it's nice to be noticed! Be honest, but treat them kindly. That way, when someone you're interested in does come along, the karmic scales will be tipped in your favour.

DATING GEMINI

Romancing the Twins can be liberating and transformative—but unless you know how to navigate the airspace, you could be in for a bumpy ride.

A lot of people have bright eyes, a sharp wit, or a charming smile. But if you come across someone with all three, you may have a Gemini on your hands. It's the sign of Johnny Depp, Angelina Jolie and countless other charmers. It radiates freedom, change and unpredictability. Sound like a good time? If you're interested in taking flight with this amazing air sign, there are some maneuvers you need to master.

STAY AHEAD OF THE CURVE

Geminis are approachable, and their dynamic mental energy will grab your attention. Likewise, as someone new in their world, you are definitely of interest to them. The problem is not getting a Gemini's attention so much as keeping it for any meaningful length of time.

Since a Gemini is always seeking fresh new perspectives, your best bet is to keep them guessing. Rather than spell everything out, retain a sense of mystery about who you are, and what you are going to do or say next. When a Gemini solves a puzzle, they quickly move on to the next thing. Romantically speaking, nobody wants to be on the receiving end of that!

This doesn't mean that Geminis are incapable of deep intimacy. They can make excellent long-term partners—but they need some things to remain hidden, even after you've been together a long time. This plays into their sense of mystery, and keeps them guessing.

NOT-SO-GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Gemini cannot stand to be pinned down—remember, it wants to break free and transform. To win a Gemini heart, allow them to shift direction. Beware: This can be maddening! Your Gemini is liable to say one thing and do another, or have contrasting opinions from one day to the next. With Gemini, fixed expectations are a comfort you'll have to do without. Liberating your mental energy is what Gemini can teach you. What you'll need to teach them—without being overbearing—is that relationships require a degree of predictability. Frame this as a puzzle to solve, a code to be cracked, and your Gemini will be an eager student.

SHOW YOUR STRENGTH

Imitating others is a sure way to lose a Gemini's interest. The Twins are turned on by people who have their own lives, interests and willpower. The more you rely on your own instincts, the more you will access the deep store of feelings beneath the buzzing Gemini brain.

And since this sign prefers to keep its options open, you will often have to step up and make decisions, whether choosing a restaurant or a name for your child. Talk with your Gemini, explore the options, and then demonstrate your strength—show your ability to choose! Think of something to console them for having to leave certain choices behind—even just going for ice cream on the way home. Shake it up, throw in a little something extra. Introduce new ideas, and your Gemini will adore you.

A GAME OF THOUGHTS

In the bedroom, Gemini is on the playful side. They love words, games, ideas. At the same time, there is a deep and serious side to this sign. With so much mental energy at play, they love it when feelings take over and lead them to a place of true intimacy.

If ultra-charming and unpredictable are your thing, Gemini can take you over the moon. But if your idea of a relationship involves steady routine and consistent behaviour, best leave the Twins to their own devices.

Psychic Stevie

I first realised I was psychic around the age of four, when I would say things and people would ask "How did you know that?" I would answer that Grandad told me, and they would reply that Grandad was no longer with us. I would just smile. Although I didn't understand it, I knew what I was hearing!

I have had many great experiences with clients, but one that stays close to me is about a woman who manages to change her life around, leaving a very bad relationship and finding a new job. We looked at her whole life and I showed her the way forward—it was such a pleasure to read for her.

A good psychic reading comes from being open and honest, establishing a good connection with spirit, and being able to give real psychic validations so that the client goes away feeling positive and upbeat, with a new sense of purpose.
